

COMMONLY CONFUSED

Complete the paragraph with the correct words. Then, use your imagination to complete the story.

It was a _____ summer afternoon, and the _____ was delightful. The _____ of Splash High decided to follow her friend's advice and buy some new _____ for herself since there was a clearance sale at the local mall. But even before she had reached the mall, she could already sense that something was not right. Once she got there, she noticed that all the mall staff was on a _____, even though it was not allowed to leave the shops unattended. Ignoring all the oddities, she walked ahead to the _____ shop and chose the biggest set of colored pencils to buy. She didn't know that these pencils could badly _____ her and everyone who had preceded her as their owner.

quiet weather principle stationary affect break
quite whether principal stationery effect brake

