

FIND OUT THE AUTHOR'S INTENT

Read the sentences carefully and select whether the author wants to answer, explain, describe, persuade, inform or entertain.

The angry winds blew away my drawing sheets as my paint bottles dropped from the table.

There are more than twenty-one million people in the gorgeous state of Florida.

I think unicorns are the best stuffed toys to nap with. You should get one, too, Coby.

One can really hurt their face. That is why safety gear is a must when you play baseball.

Once you have added lemon zest to the water, add a couple of ice cubes and mint leaves.

