

WHAT'S THE MAIN IDEA?

Read the passage carefully and answer the questions.

Tim and Burk had an unbreakable bond. They did their homework together. Tim helped Burk wherever he got stuck and so did Burk. One day, Tim told Burk that he was changing his school and moving to a new one. Burk was sad at first, but then cheered up when he saw Tim happy. Tim soon moved on and made friends. He got busy with his new friends and no longer had much time for Burk. His friends would ask him to stop studying so much and join them in the park to play instead. He spent less and less time with Burk. Burk eventually stopped visiting Tim as he was usually out with his new friends whenever he went over to Tim's house. When the grades for the final exams arrived, Tim's grades were terrible. He was disappointed and sad. His new friends did not care about his grades since they were happy with their own. When Burk found out about it, he went to meet Tim and promised him that he would help him study for the next term. With Burk's help, Tim got excellent grades in the next term.

What, according to you, is the main idea of the story?

Summarize the story in your own words and underline the sentences that helped you.

A large rounded rectangular box with a dashed pink border, containing ten horizontal pink lines for writing a summary.

Give an appropriate title for the story.

A smaller rounded rectangular box with a dashed pink border, containing four horizontal pink lines for writing a title.

