

LOOKING FOR CLUES

Read the passage below and answer the questions.

Jason moved to his cousin's house in the Alps for his summer vacation. He wanted to visit him and spend some time with the family. He had to board a train to get there. The train station was more crowded than usual. Jason clutched his wallet as they entered the crowded area. When he got to the town his cousin lived in, he noticed that there was a slight increase in temperature but not a lot. It was a pleasant change. He loved staying at his cousin's place and sleeping on the sofa, which could be transformed into a bed. It was the best part of his summer vacation. He was ecstatic to finally be there after two years; his happiness was immense.
