

ORGANIZING OR NOT?

Read each scenario carefully and identify whether it is an example of organizing. Tick "Yes" if it is organizing, or "No" if it is not.

Sarah sorts her collection of seashells into different containers based on their size and color.

Emily arranges her books on a bookshelf in alphabetical order.

Tina keeps her crayons and colored pencils in a jumbled pile inside her backpack.

Lisa arranges her stuffed animals on her bed by size, with the largest ones on the bottom and the smallest ones on top.

Tom places his dirty clothes in a pile on his bedroom floor.

Philip throws her shoes, toys, and clothes all over her room.
