

PERSONIFICATION PARADISE

Underline the personification in each paragraph.

It was a beautiful day. The sun smiled brightly in the clear blue sky, warming the meadow with its golden rays. Meanwhile, the wind danced through the trees, whispering secrets to the leaves. The park was filled with the laughter and playful chatter of its visitors.

When I opened my favorite book, the pages invited me into their magical world. As I flipped through the pages, I found myself so completely lost in the story that I didn't realize how quickly time flew by.

Tia made some fluffy pancakes for a perfect Sunday breakfast. The melted butter slid gracefully over the pancakes, making them even more delicious! And the strawberries huddled together on the top as if sharing a sweet, juicy secret.

