

THE BRAVE LITTLE TURTLE

Read the story carefully and answer the questions.

Once upon a time, in a quiet pond, there lived a little turtle named Timmy. Timmy was very shy and afraid of the other animals in the pond. He would always hide in his shell whenever anyone came near him.

One day, Timmy saw a baby duckling stuck in some tall grass near the pond. The duckling was crying for help, but none of the other animals seemed to notice. Timmy knew he had to do something to help the duckling.

Bravely, Timmy crawled out of his shell and slowly made his way through the grass toward the duckling. Each step made him more afraid, but he kept going because he wanted to help.

Finally, Timmy reached the duckling and gently nudged it with his nose. The duckling looked up, surprised to see Timmy, but then happily followed him back to the safety of the pond.

The other animals in the pond cheered for Timmy and thanked him for his bravery. Timmy realized that even though he was small, he could still make a big difference by being brave and helping others.

THE BRAVE LITTLE TURTLE

Mark the correct option.

What is the lesson you learned from the story?

- Being brave means you have to ignore your own safety and put yourself in danger to help others.
- No matter how small or scared you may feel, helping those in need is always the right thing to do.
- Helping others is only worth it if you receive praise and recognition from those around you.

What is the moral you learned from the story?

- True courage is about overcoming your fear to help those in need.
- Only turtles can be brave and help others; other animals should not interfere.
- It's better to stay in your shell and not take risks to help others, even if they're in trouble.
