

Remember the Order

Reading: Sequencing

Read the poem. Complete the graphic organizer that follows.

What Sadie Tied By Carrie Finison

Loop, swoop, pull it through.
Sadie learned to tie her shoe.
"I did it!" Sadie said out loud,
And smiled wide, she was so proud.

"But why stop there?" Sadie thought.
She went ahead and tied her socks.
She tied her sleeves, she tied her hair.
She tied her brother's underwear.

Loop, swoop, pull it through.
Sadie tied her blankets, too.
She tied the curtains, tied the towels.
But not the cat, who began to growl.

"Sadie," Mom called. "Slow down, hon,
Please watch out. Your shoe's undone."
So, Sadie stopped and tied her shoe.
Loop, swoop, pull it through.

Think of the order of events from the poem. Fill the graphic organizer and summarize the story in the correct sequence.

First...

Next...

Then...

Finally...

Draw a picture depicting your favorite scene from the poem:

