Maya and Timmy go to see their friend Kia in the evening. They have candies for her. They walk through the neighborhood to get there. Suddenly, they see seven sparkling lights by a stream. Later, they find six more by a big tree. They want to see what it is, so they follow the lights. But the lights disappear. Timmy says they are fireflies and not to worry. Timmy runs, and the fireflies follow, making their walk magical with lights in the dark.
