

4-Digit Dividend Riddles

Find the quotient and remainder when the greatest 4-digit number is divided by 11.

$$\square \div \square = \square \text{ R } \square$$

Find the quotient and remainder when the smallest 4-digit number is divided by 13.

$$\square \div \square = \square \text{ R } \square$$

Find the quotient and remainder when the greatest 4-digit number is divided by the double of the smallest 2-digit number.

$$\square \div \square = \square \text{ R } \square$$

Find the quotient and remainder when the greatest 4-digit number is divided by the half of the smallest 3-digit number.

$$\square \div \square = \square \text{ R } \square$$

